SUMMER COOL DRINKS: NATURE'S SHIELD AGAINST HEAT

Summer in India brings intense heat, often leading to dehydration, fatigue, and heat-related illnesses. In such conditions, staying hydrated is essential not only for comfort but also for maintaining overall health and productivity. While modern markets offer a wide range of packaged beverages, traditional and natural summer drinks remain the most effective and healthy options. They are not only refreshing but also rich in nutrients and free from harmful additives.

The human body loses water and essential salts through perspiration during hot weather. Therefore, summer drinks should ideally replenish fluids, restore electrolytes, and help cool the body. One of the most popular traditional drinks is sattu sharbat, made from roasted gram flour. It is rich in protein, fiber, and minerals, providing instant energy while keeping the body cool. Its savory version, mixed with salt, lemon, and roasted cumin, is especially effective in preventing dehydration. Another widely consumed drink is buttermilk (chaas). It is light, easy to digest, and acts as a natural probiotic. Chaas not only cools the body but also improves digestion, making it an ideal drink after meals. Often flavored with mint, cumin, and a pinch of salt, it helps maintain electrolyte balance during extreme heat. Similarly, lassi, a thicker yogurt-based drink, is both nourishing and refreshing, although it should be consumed in moderation if sweetened.

Among fruit-based beverages, aam panna holds a special place in Indian households. Prepared from raw mangoes, it is known for its ability to prevent heatstroke. Rich in vitamin C and essential salts, it helps replenish lost nutrients and provides a tangy, refreshing taste. Coconut water is another excellent natural drink, often referred to as nature's electrolyte solution. It is rich in potassium and helps maintain hydration without adding excess sugar. Simple homemade drinks like lemon water (nimbu pani) are highly effective during summer. A mixture of water, lemon juice, salt, and a little sugar can instantly restore energy levels and prevent dehydration. Watermelon juice, with its high water content, is another refreshing option that hydrates the body while providing essential vitamins. Traditional drinks like bael sherbet are also valued for their cooling properties and ability to improve gut health.

In addition to these, herbal drinks such as mint water, fennel (saunf) water, and cumin (jeera) water are beneficial for digestion and help regulate body temperature. These drinks are deeply rooted in traditional knowledge systems, where food and beverages are designed according to seasonal needs.

However, it is important to be cautious about certain popular choices. Carbonated soft drinks, packaged fruit juices, and energy drinks often contain high amounts of sugar, preservatives, and artificial flavors. While they may provide temporary relief from heat, they can lead to dehydration and other health issues in the long run. Excessive consumption of caffeinated beverages like tea and coffee should also be avoided, as they may increase fluid loss. In conclusion, summer cool drinks are more than just a means to quench thirst—they are essential for maintaining health during hot weather. Natural and traditional beverages offer a perfect combination of hydration, nutrition, and cooling effects. By choosing these drinks over processed alternatives, individuals can protect themselves from heat-related problems while enjoying refreshing and wholesome flavors. Embracing these simple yet effective drinks is the best way to stay healthy and energized throughout the summer season.

The meeting commenced with a recitation of the Mohyal Prathana led by Smt Vimi Datta.

The President extended warm greetings to all. He thanked Smt Anjali and AVM Prashant Mohan for hosting the meeting. He extended a special welcome to Smt Asha Datta who attended the meeting after a gap.

Col. M.P. Chhibber informed about the birthdays and marriage anniversaries falling in the month. Members extended greetings for his birthday to Air Cmde V.K. Bali and for their marriage anniversary to Smt Simmi and Lt Gen Arvind Dutta and Smt Archana and Shri J.M. Chhibber. Sweets were distributed on this occasion.

The President drew attention to the recently concluded election. He felt that the result in West Bengal had a significance beyond the political sphere extending to the geo-strategic implications for the security of the country as a whole. The outpouring of joy among the common populace after the result was reflective of the immense pressure faced by them during the previous government.

Thereafter, there was a free and frank exchange of views on the subject. Lt. Gen. Arvind Dutta and AVM Prashant Mohan mentioned issues ranging from unnatural demographic changes, negation of the beliefs of the majority population, security implications for the country's eastern border, especially in the light of the events in the neighbouring country. Lt Gen GL Bakshi and Shri R.A. Chhibber, the two nonagenarians in the group shared their personal experience, as youngsters, of the effects of the partition of the country on individuals and families that lost everything in the turmoil of separation from their roots.

Smt Anjali Mohan wondered why the true picture of the partition was not taught in schools post-independence? Responding to this, other members pointed out that this was the result of a lopsided development of our educational matrix where greater emphasis was placed on the Mughal period, leading to corresponding negation of the role of other ancient Indian kingdoms i.e. Maurya's, Guptas, Cholas etc.

Other members, Smt Manjula Datta, Shri Anil Lav and Shri Sunil Kr. Datta, touched upon the need to differentiate between the spiritual non-expansionist aspects in Hinduism vis-a-vis the proselytising nature of the Abrahamic ones.

Shri Sham Sunder Bakshi (Chhibber)
(20 Sep 1937–20 April 2026)

With profound grief and immense sorrow the family informs the sad demise of Shri Sham Sunder Bakshi, son of late Shri Chhatter Singh Bakshi at Thane, Mumbai on 20 April 2026. He would always be remembered as a role model. He is survived by his sons Shri Vikas Bakshi (an Entrepreneur) and Maj Gen Vivek Bakshi (Serving Army Offr). We pray for eternal peace of the departed soul. His wife, Smt Jyoti Bakshi, donated Rs 11,000/- to GMS. Om Shanti

On the sad unexpected demise of friend of everybody Shri Satya Narain Dutta Ji. It has been a personal loss to me. His father late Ch. Harnam Das Ji had crossed 102. I was expecting SN Saheb to go much beyond that age. Ch. Harnam Das who was Chief Auditor in the Indian Railways was blood cousin of my maternal grandfather Ch. Jagan Nath Dutta who had retired as Garrison Engineer in the Military Engineering Service (MES). Their houses in the Issar Ka Mohalla Kanjroor Dattan were adjacent to each other. Every summer vacation I used to visit both Veerum and Kanjroor and I had known SN from those days even when he was seven years senior to me in age. I knew his in laws too. SN was married to the daughter of Mehta Kedarnath Nath Ji Mohan, popularly called Mauju by everybody. He was running a big Mehta Printing Press adjacent to the then existing Mohyal Amrit Bank in Amritsar. Wife of Shri SN and all her sisters had studied in the Kanya Vidyalaya in the Arya Samaj Mandir near our residence in Amritsar. My association with SN Saheb had greatly enhanced when I had links with the GMS and was even English Editor of Mohyal Mitter magazine for some time. I and SN Saheb used to sit in front of the computer to finalise the cover and other pages of Mohyal Mitter every month.

SN himself was a very light eater, but his hospitality for others was excellent. He used to periodically send freshly prepared snacks and other eatables to a group of Mohyals, and I was one of the beneficiaries. Many years back, when his wife was living he had hosted a grand party at his house to celebrate the Golden Jubilee of his own marriage. I and late Maj S S Dutta were honoured guests, along with many others. There was a mock milni of maternal uncles of the bride and the groom. I was acting Mama of wife of SN Saheb and Maj Dutta Mama of the groom. SN received many envelopes containing Shagun money from many guests. He did not retain even one single rupee and donated all the money to the GMS through me.

SN was a very early riser. Almost everyday he used to ring me up around 6.30 in the morning for a small chit chat. Only once he made an exception when two days before his demise he rang me up in the evening. I was surprised and enquired about his health. He sounded well and informed me that he was perfectly well. SN used to go for regular walks in the public park just opposite his house. He himself had laid this park and was looking after its maintenance on behalf of the colony residents. During his young days he used to do much of physical exercise and was also a great sportsman. During these days he was only getting a body massage done everyday and had engaged a professional Masseur for the purpose.

I know SN had reached a very ripe old age. Still the loss of a biologically active body and a non physical mind can never be compensated. It certainly leaves a void. I pray for peace to the departed soul and strength enough to all his loved ones to bear this loss. Sad at his departure, though he was one of those lucky ones who depart from this world after living their full and worthy life. May the Almighty God bless his noble soul with eternal peace.

Shri Satya Narain Dutta 1926 – 2026 (Delhi's packaging and label industry pioneer)

At a memorial meeting on 3 May 2026, the extended Dutta family, the Delhi community, and its printing and packaging industry, bid farewell to one of its acknowledged pioneers, Satya Narain Dutta, who passed away on 27 April 2026. A visionary entrepreneur, craftsman, and innovator, SN Dutta leaves behind a legacy that is strongly connected to the evolution and growth of India's label printing industry. The legacy includes his son Abhay Dutta's manufacturing establishment for label presses and other accessories known as UV Graphic Technologies, and the continuously growing and thriving label converting business of Dutta Press, now run by his grandsons, Akshay and Anuj Dutta.

Born in 1926 in Shimla, into a large family, Satya Narain Dutta is described as an extremely disciplined person. After his BA, he was inspired by his uncle to enter the printing business, which led to his transforming the label industry, especially for the beverage segment, with considerable ambition and perseverance.

He founded Dutta Press in 1956 with an investment of Rs. 2,500, beginning with a manually operated Chandler & Price printing machine. This eventually became one of the leading Indian label printing businesses expanding steadily from its origins in Darya Ganj to a purpose-built factory in the Okhla Industrial Area Phase II, of South Delhi. With an eye and head for quality and for modernization, SN Dutta embraced new challenges, technology and automation. His investments in advanced machinery and new processes helped modernize label production across the country. He was among the first to print security products and multiple leaf airline tickets, going on to pioneer and in a way to dominate the production of highly decorative beer and liquor labels.

Dutta Press was the first to use flexo presses and automated hot foil stamping for beer and liquor labels in the country, contributing to the improvement of wet glue labels with embellishments such as embossing and water-based coatings. It was also among the first label converters to adopt the use of pressure-sensitive label stocks. SN Dutta's insistence on excellence improved the efficiency, consistency, durability, and scalability for the entire beverage and packaging sector.

Dutta Press became the preferred print partner for some of India's most prominent beverage and brewing companies, including Mohan Meakin, United Breweries, Carlsberg, Pernod Ricard, Mount Shivalik, Jagjit Distilleries, Allied Blenders and Distillers, and Dabur. Dutta's reputation for precision and uncompromising quality, his overall demeanor and style of business, earned him immense respect among customers, suppliers, and competitors.

Dutta's reputation for precision and uncompromising quality, his overall demeanor and style of business, earned him immense respect among customers, suppliers, and competitors.

As recounted by numerous members of the community at his memorial service, Dutta was a perfectionist meticulous, punctual, deeply involved in every detail of his operations. His management style was hands-on and exacting, setting the cultural foundation and tone of the business. Those who worked with him remember him as demanding yet inspiring, someone who accepted nothing less than the highest standards.

Beyond the business and the factory floor, he was deeply family-oriented and maintained a wide spectrum of close relationships with the community. His generosity extended well beyond business, contributing with his hands-on interest in the construction of numerous parks, ashrams, and other charitable initiatives.

Satya Narain Dutta was a silent builder of institutions, a meticulous creator of standards, and a mentor to what has become one of the most significant and fastest-growing industries in the country, and to his own family's group of companies, not only for producing labels but also for manufacturing label presses. It is an honor to have met him, in Okhla. The industry and Community in the New Delhi NCR should take a deep breath and respect his memory by learning from his honorable way of doing business.

The New Delhi NCR has become one of the leading printing and packaging centers in the country, with the contributions of persons like Satya Narain Dutta, who built family-owned businesses. There are several such founders of family-owned printing and packaging businesses that one knows of, who have led in the technological advancement of the industry, such as VV Purie, SN Mehta, MK Bhargava, KL Shroff, Ashok Chaturvedi, Bhuvnesh Seth, and possibly several others that I leave out without meaning to disrespect them in any way.

In the same vein, it is important to acknowledge that several of these businesses have grown, diversified, and are now increasingly run by their third generation. In my by no means comprehensive list, these include Thomson Press, Kumar Printers, Nutech, and Dutta Press.

Our deepest condolences on the demise of Respected S.N. Datta Uncle, an invaluable gem of publishing press. He was a noble soul who dedicated his life serving not only Mohyal Biradari but to the society too. Alongwith his remarkable contribution to publishing, his efforts in building Ashrams reflected his compassionate heart and selfless spirit. He believed in creating not just buildings but places of peace, faith, and humanity of countless people. His life was inspiration filled with hardwork, humility, generosity and silent service.

Our family's deepest attachment with him was, he and my father belong to the same village 'Pind Kanjrur'. We often call him Tayyaji. He was very close to all of us especially to my father. Today with his departure, it feels as though a guiding light has gone out leaving behind beautiful memories and values that will continue to inspire generations. Now there will be no one who will call me at 5.30 early morning.

The pages he printed may fade with time but the goodness he spread through his deeds will remain forever etched in people's heart. May his noble soul attain eternal peace. Uncle you will remain in our hearts.

My Bhavpuran Shradhanjali

कॉमरेड वजीर चंद बक्शी जी की 31वीं पुण्यतिथि 24 अप्रैल 2026 को अलवर शहर में "बक्शी स्मृति संस्थान" एवं बक्शी परिवार की ओर से विचार गोष्ठी के माध्यम से "राजस्थान स्टेट रोडवेज एंपलाइज यूनियन एटक कार्यालय बस स्टैंड, अलवर" में आयोजित की गई। सर्वप्रथम सभा की अध्यक्षता कर रहे रोडवेज नेता कॉमरेड श्री हरिओम चुघ ने बक्शी जी के चित्र पर माल्यार्पण कर श्रद्धा सुमन अर्पित किए। तत्पश्चात सभी उपस्थित महानुभावों ने पुष्प अर्पित कर उन्हें श्रद्धांजलि दी। वक्ताओं ने कॉमरेड साहब के जीवन पर प्रकाश डालते हुए बताया कि वह किसानों श्रमिकों और दुखी लोगों के लिए संघर्ष का प्रतीक थे, डॉ. जीवन सिंह मानवी जी ने बताया समाज की बुराई और गलत सोच से लड़ाई तब मजबूत होती है जब वह सोच परिवार और आसपास तक पहुंचे। मुफ्ती मोहम्मद हनीफ जी ने कहा कॉमरेड साहब की अनुपस्थिति से जनहित में उठने वाली बुलंद प्रगतिशील आवाज कमजोर हुई।

कॉमरेड बक्शी जी का जन्म 1 जनवरी 1898 में जिला रावलपिंडी में हुआ था जो एक स्वतंत्रता सेनानी थे। जब पुरुषार्थी के रूप में परिवार को लेकर अलवर जिला में बसे तो भी उन्होंने गरीबों के लिए संघर्ष नहीं छोड़ा वो किसान नेता थे, लगभग आठ बार किसानों के लिए संघर्ष करते हुए वे जेल भी गए। अपनी ग्राम पंचायत के वो सरपंच भी चुने गए थे। उनका परिवार उत्तम खेती करने में जिले में अब्बल था। 1982 में दस घन मीटर का गोबर गैस प्लांट लगाया जिसका

उद्घाटन तत्कालीन कृषि मंत्री श्रीमती कमला बेनीवाल ने किया था। अंतिम पड़ाव में वो कविताएं लिखते थे जिनका स्थानीय अखबारों में प्रकाशन भी हुआ था।

विचार गोष्ठी में लगभग बीस जन संगठनों के प्रसिद्ध लोगों ने शिरकत की। देश की वर्तमान स्थिति पर चर्चा की गई जिसमें बढ़ती महंगाई, बेरोजगारी तथा बढ़ती गैर बराबरी पर चिंता व्यक्त की गई। उपस्थित वक्ताओं ने बक्शी संस्थान तथा बक्शी परिवार की सराहना करते हुए कहा कि बहुत कम लोग होते हैं जो अपने बुजुर्गों की याद को ताज़ा रखते हैं।

मंच संचालन जिला "एटक" सचिव तेज पाल सेनी ने किया और सभी आए आगंतुको का धन्यवाद और आभार उनके पुत्र श्री राजकुमार बक्शी भीमवाल और श्री रोशन लाल बक्शी भीमवाल जी व उनके पोते राजीव बक्शी ने दिया।
